Reviews

A really great publication with lucid and perfect reasons. I have read through and i am confident that i am going to gonna read yet again yet again down the road. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

General Accounting Office, 2001 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)55472135 Excerpt: . . . Executive Summary operations, the cost to provide a direct maintenance hour during fiscal 12 year 2000 was not available on an ongoing basis. The results for the seven other metrics are inconclusive because factors unrelated to the consolidation influenced the data, the change in the overall performance was insignificant, or the data indicated both positive and negative results. However, lessons learned from the metrics used in evaluating the Pearl Harbor consolidation would be useful in framing evaluation plans for future consolidations at other naval locations. GAO is recommending that (1) the Navy implement a method to provide total cost visibility and accountability on an ongoing basis and to distinguish between depot and intermediate work of consolidated ship maintenance activities; (2) the Office of the Secretary of Defense revise the departments regulations to clarify its processes, procedures, and costing methodology for transferring working capital fund activities to direct appropriations; (3) the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Navy resolve their financial issues; and (4) the Navy develop metrics to measure the efficiency and effectiveness of consolidated ship maintenance activities. While the Department of Defense concurred with the recommendations, it did not indicate specific plans to resolve the financial 13 issues first raised in GAOs 1999 report on the Pearl Harbor consolidation. Accordingly, GAO has added matters for congressional consideration to have the Navy to report its strategy and time frame for providing total cost visibility and identifying depot and intermediate work and to have the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Navy to report their strategy...
