Paperback. Condition: New. Economic crises and the meltdown of some of the worlds major financial firms make it clear: traditional strategic planning no longer guarantees success. Uncertainty and change, globalization, empowered consumers and flatter hierarchies call for a new approach. Strategy-In-Action shows with cutting-edge research and compelling cases how companies ended the long-standing divorce between planners and implementers. One saved 200 million from people power and another made 74 million from innovation. CEOs and strategists will find a systematic road map for winning strategies: how to stand in the future, get intelligence from far-flung locations, give voice to dissenters, maximize ownership, screen out losers efficiently, and produce quick wins. In short, Strategy-In-Action gives readers the art and science of planning, people and performance. The insights will force you to think and then rethink what you thought you knew. Malcolm Elvey, Chairman, Academy of Chief Executives Read Strategy-In-Action. Then build and execute the future you want. Steven Esses, CEO, Arotech Strategy-In-Action is brilliant and has brought me much inspiration. Stefan Hangartner, Board of Directors, Tarat SAA holistic approach to the design and execution of the strategic process. Seven simple steps guide you through Strategy-In-Action to yield sustainable success. Love how it marries the importance of design, implementation, and PEOPLE as critical to making it all happen. Lisa Grattan, Member, Board of Directors, Womens Tennis Association I was highly skeptical in the beginning I am known as a skeptical guy but now I wish I had had your tools 35 years ago when I was starting out. Werner Brandmayr, former President and Managing Director, ConocoPhillips Holding Europe The methodology is great and the experience from working with other companies stimulating. I see measurable results in the organization: more (and more open) communication across managers and employees, better alignment across silos, and deeper ownership of the strategy. All three are...
