These Poems have been written during my connection with the Fenian Brotherhood, and to the spirit of nationality which the organization revived is due whatever merit, if any, they possess. I have endeavored to fan that old spirit of our race into a stronger and more concentrated flame - Hatred to England, which is the strongest manner of expressing Love for Ireland. To the Irish reader, for whom alone these Poems are written, this will cover a multitude of sins. I remember the pleasant summer eves of long ago in Ireland, when the lads and lasses used to meet under the spreading trees, and to the music of the harp and fiddle dance the pleasant reels and planxties out beneath the moon and stars - Heart and harp-strings timing, Feet and fingers rhyming! Ah! in all their wanderings over land and sea, at picnics, balls, bazaars, in banquet-hall or greenwood, with the music of Germany or Italy to...
