Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Classical Studies, Information or as Training About six months ago, the present Lord Rector of the University of Aberdeen, Mr. Grant Duff, submitted to the University Court a scheme for reducing the value of Latin Composition in the competition for Bursaries. In a lecture recently given at Edinburgh upon Education, Professor Jowett condemned the existing methods of classical instruction, and asserted that Latin and Greek might be learned in two-thirds of the time now bestowed upon them. And the other day, Mr. Froude, addressing the students of St. Andrew s on the occasion of his installation as their Lord Rector, in place of Greek recommended French, or German, or Chemistry, or Norman-French, or Chinese, or Russian, according to the wants of the individual. Such explosions of discontent keep the question of classical education in a lively condition. In fact, complaints against the Classics have grown so common of late that people begin to be weary of the question before anything has been done to settle it. The cry that we have had enough of discussion...
