

Records of the past Volume 9

By Records of the Past Society

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 138 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.3in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1910 Excerpt: . . . ends of the hair were curled. The greatest care was necessary to keep this orbis even in shape, and dire was the punishment which awaited the unhappy slave who misplaced even one curl. 7 In the back the hair was divided into many parts, braided, and these braids were coiled: (a) in the low, long coil of the two preceding periods, Type I, (b); Type II, (a); (b) in a coil halfway up the head; this coil was sometimes made without braiding the hair. The locks or curls on the neck, seen in the preceding tpe, entirely disappeared. Juvenal speaks of this style of coiffure in the following lines: 8 Another, trembling on the left, prepares To open and arrange, the stragglng hairs In ringlets trim: meanwhile the council meet And first the nurse, a personage discreet, Late from the toilet to the wheel removed (The...

READ ONLINE
[ 7 MB ]

Reviews

I just started out reading this pdf. It is full of wisdom and knowledge You are going to like just how the blogger publish this publication.
-- Lily Gorczany

Merely no words to spell out. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. I am happy to explain how this is actually the very best publication we have go through within my personal daily life and can be he best ebook for at any time.
-- Althea Christiansen