Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Chinese Currency The facts of this work have been collected from Chinese books and journals and from Customs publications, and they have been as far as possible brought up to date. At present the Chinese are importing both gold and silver. In 1900, according to Mr. F. E. Taylor's very valuable report on trade, gold was imported from Japan because many rich Chinese wished for the most portable metal in case they needed to fly to a distance through the mischances of war. Silver was imported to the amount of fifteen million and a half taels. In addition to this sum, known from the Customs books, there was an enormous import of British, French, and Mexican dollars, brought by the foreign armies which captured Tientsin and Peking. In Manchuria and Chihli dollars are now more plentiful than silver. The circulation of foreign dollars in the north of China has increased so much as to help the people, in a considerable degree, to recover the commerce which was interrupted by the war of 1900, the year of cruel massacres and severe retribution.
