RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 38 pages. LC Number: KF26 . E5555 2007d OCLC Number: (OCoLC)182727430 Subject: National parks and reserves -- United States -- Finance. Excerpt: . . . leave a great deal of discretion to the administration in determining funding needs. I hope that we can be more specific about the criteria that is involved. The way I read it now, the standard is that they can fund any project or program the Director identifies as one that will preserve the national parks for another century of conservation, preservation, and enjoyment. Thats pretty broad. I hope we can be more specific. Next concern would be that additional funding for the Centennial Challenge obviously cant come at the expense of the other ongoing needs of the Park Service, and thats something that I think you alluded to in your comments, as well. The final point that I would make--and I think this is something that maybe the Director will speak to--is we need to really be very sure that setting up this program that contemplates significant increases in private philanthropy does not open the door for increased pressure to have corporate sponsors of our various parks and park facilities. I think thats an issue that weve debated around here before. I remember when we had the debate a few years ago about advertising on the National Mall, and concerns there. I think the Senate voted, with a fairly large bipartisan vote, to prohibit that in the future, at least when it occurred in that instance. The donor recognition standards that the Park Service has adopted, I think that we need to be sure that those are not undermined. So, let me stop with that. Again, thank you for having the hearing. Im...
