Reviews

An exceptional ebook and the font employed was fascinating to read through. I actually have study and so i am certain that i will likely to read once again yet again in the future. Your life period is going to be change as soon as you complete looking at this book. (Nelle Schaefer I)

LIVING IN THE HOUSE OF BLUES: BEHIND THE DOORS OF A HOUSE FILLED WITH THE BLUES

Trafford Publishing. Hardcover. Condition: New. 182 pages. Dimensions: 8.8in. x 5.9in. x 0.9in. A Book written by the daughter of a Blues Hall of Fame Inductee Lonnie Brooks known National and Internationally as a Legendary Blues Recording Artist My dads calm spirit, gentle soul and his nine children, this is my story of growing up in the house with a Blues Legend, how I witnessed his career excel, witnessing the good times as well as the bad. Remembering when we didnt have much to eat and remembering the spelling on the bottles of generic ketchup and Mayo we ate as sandwiches to eating steaks and vegetables. Remembering dad having to comb my hair for school, giving me two extremely tight braids that wouldnt lay down, that got me chased home and beat up by classmates. Remembering my dads first trip to Europe, his first televised appearance on Hee Haw hosted by Roy Clark, while my siblings and I sat on the floor watching the show waiting for him to come back home with the paycheck, and with haste so that we can eat. He even appeared on Soul Train hosted by Don Cornelius in Chicago, my cousins and I at an early age choreographed dance moves to a song dad wrote called The Flip based from The Flip Wilson Comedy Show in the early seventies. Witnessing countless times of my dads music being used without his permission. Often a happy man we all knew when someone had upset dad, it had to be really bad for him to get very angry. I could always tell when he was hurt about something because his heart would definitely rise on his sleeve. Through it all I just want to express my point of view of the love my dad has for his music,...
