Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Study of the Wisconsin Wood-Using Industries The importance of Wisconsin as a lumber producing and a lumber consuming state has been long apparent, as evidenced by the industrial data gathered for the entire country, though less information concerning the consumption of forest products in the state has been gathered than in the matter of the production. For several years the commonwealth, through the agency of the State Board of Forestry has been urging protection of its forest lands as well as reforestation for the purpose of prolonging the life of, the lumber business and increasing the number of industries wherein wood in its various forms enters exclusively or partially into the manufactures. Data showing the number, character, and variety of the products of the wood-using concerns located within the state, and the expenditures for raw material for these products, were not available, and it was with the view of compiling and publishing these data that the State Board of Forestry entered into cooperation with the Office of Wood Utilization of the United States Forest Service for the purpose of collecting them. Statistics covering the production of lumber and other products of the sawmill and woods of the United States are compiled and published annually by the Bureau of the Census in cooperation with the Forest Service. In 1860 Wisconsin ranked seventh in the list of states arranged according to the quantity of lumber produced. Ten years later fourth place was occupied, third in 1880, second in 1890, first in 1900 and 1904, second in 1905, third in 1906, and fifth in 1907 and 1908. For the last mentioned year figures were furnished by 899...
