Createspace, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .My big brother was five years older than me but only three grades ahead. He d begun his studies at the same age I had but he didn t I like the idea of moving hastily in an important matter like education. He wanted to lay a firm foundation for that great edifice, so he took two years to do one year s work; sometimes he even took three. If the foundations weren t well-made, how could the edifice endure? I was nine, he was fourteen. He had full right by seniority to supervise and instruct me. And I was expected to accept every order of his as law. By nature he was very studious. He was always sitting with a book open. And perhaps to rest his brain he would sometimes draw pictures of birds, dogs and cats in the margin of his notebook. Occasionally he would write a name, ? word or a sentence ten or twenty times. He might copy a couplet out several times in beautiful letters or create new words which made no rhyme or reason. I wasn t really very keen about studying. To pick up a book and sit with it for an hour was a tremendous effort. As soon as I found a chance I d leave the hostel and go to the field and play marbles or fly paper kites or sometimes just meet a chum--what could be more fun? But as soon as I came back into the room and saw my brother s scowling face I was petrified. His first question would be, Where were you! Always this question, always asked in the same tone and the...
