Excerpt from The Latter-Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 73: September 28, 1911 Daniel, the young Hebrew prophet, had the vision of futurity opened up to him, and saw the time when God would establish a kingdom upon the earth, never more to be thrown down. (dan. 2: 44; 7: Many hundreds of years after Daniel s time, Jesus of Nazareth came upon the earth, and told His disciples to pray for the kingdom to come, and through one of His apostles He revealed how the kingdom was to be finally established. John, the beloved apostle, says, I saw another angel ?y in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel (or laws of the kingdom) to preach unto them that dwell on the earth. (rev. 14: It would naturally be supposed that the heavenly messenger would be endowed with authority to empower men to admit citizens into the kingdom he came to establish, and that no one could take this authority to himself; and that He who might dare to do so, without first being authorized, would render himself liable to the penalty...
