This workbook is a companion journal to the book, Redeemed, A Warrior of the Word discipleship study of Tamar. Prompt questions are presented along with space where you can journaling your thoughts, questions, prayers or other considerations as you journey through this ancient story. Redeemed is the study of Tamar, the wife Judah got for his firstborn son, Er. Many have presumed her to be deceptive, alluring and seductive. Yet I invite you to examine her life in greater detail with me as we ease into her circumstances in the recess of our imaginations and consider just what she might have been thinking along the way. Perhaps at one point she thought . I have been with evil men, learned their ways and sadly contributed to their wickedness, at least I wonder if I did . How long must I be required to rot away in this prison not of my own making? . Must I die the slow bitter death of a starved soul separated from my hopes and dreams of .? Her story is one of trail and hardship that ends with her name being forever recorded in the annals of history. She lends many life lessons to us if we are willing to consider her journey as though it were our own. Let us walk beside her, learn from her, and find the freedom for ourselves that comes to those who are compassionately . Redeemed.
