Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Household Hygiene Rats are the most repulsive, destructive and dangerous of this group. Space does not permit historical data in relation to this pest. The rat is a very prolific animal, capable of reproducing three to five times each year, bringing forth from five to ten, and sometimes as many as twenty progeny. Diet: The diet upon which the rat exists is variable and includes seeds of every kind, grain, meal, flour, all food products, garden vegetables; bulbs, roots, leaves, stems, mushrooms, bark of growing trees, flowers of herbaceous plants; eggs, ducklings, chickens, young rabbits and squabs; milk, butter and cheese; fish, frogs, mollusks and crustaceans; fresh meat of all kinds and carrion. Rats are at times particularly fond of a certain type of glue used in the binding of books, and have been known to attack young children when really hungry. The rat is also a cannibal.
