Excerpt from The Transactions of the Honourable Society of Cymmrodorion: Session 1904-5 The Council, for the first time since the revival of the Society in 1873, meet their fellow members without the presence or the support of their Chairman, the late Mr. Stephen Evans. For over thirty-two years without a break, with the unanimous consent of his colleagues, Mr. Stephen Evans continued to conduct the deliberations of the Council. With a keen desire to promote the objects of the Society he maintained unabated interest in its work to the end of his days. His connection with the Society may be said to have inspired him with the great devotion and zeal which he displayed in regard to all Welsh National movements, and particularly to the movements for the promotion of Intermediate and Higher Education. His services to the Society and to Wales will be further commemorated in the Society s Transactions for the year by his friends and fellow-workers, Sir Lewis Morris, and Sir Marchant Williams.
