I can make this march, and I will make Georgia howl! William Tecumseh Sherman No Civil War commander possessed a more astute appraisal of the nature of the contemporary warfare, how to form and pursue grand strategy, and the critical nexus between war, civil society, popular support, and electoral politics, And few American generals have since. - Victor Davis Hanson, The Savior
Generals William Tecumseh Sherman holds a unique position in American history. Synonymous with barbarity in the South, Sherman is lauded as a war hero in the North, and modern historians consider him the harbinger of total war. As a Union general, Sherman was recognized for his outstanding command of military strategy but criticized for the harshness of the scorched earth policies that he implemented in conducting total war against the Confederate States, especially in 1864 and 1865. Military historian B. H. Liddell Hart famously declared that Sherman was the first modern general. Both Grant and Sherman shared the same theory of war: anything that might help the enemys war effort should be considered a military target. Grant explained to Sherman that the Confederates must be demoralized and left without hope, and he instructed Sherman, Take all provisions, forage and stock wanted for the use of your command. Such as cannot be consumed, destroy. Leave the valley so barren that crows flying over it. . . will have to carry their provender with them. This strategy sought the total economic collapse of the South, as well as completely disabling the Souths capability of fielding armies. In addition...
