Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO examined the number and patterns of career appointments to the civil service made between October 1984 and June 1994. GAO found that: (1) between October 1984 and June 1994, 1,090 former political and congressional employees received career appointments, including 552 noncompetitive appointments under the Ramspeck Act, 502 competitive appointments, and 36 White House service appointments; (2) 42 of the appointments were to the Senior Executive Service (SES), while the remaining 1,048 appointments were to positions equivalent to GS-15 or below; (3) Ramspeck Act appointments have followed a cyclical trend over the 10-year period, increasing greatly during the years immediately following federal elections; (4) these noncompetitive appointments are generally associated with congressional membership turnover and the consequent involuntary separation of congressional employees; and (5) cabinet-level departments accounted for 81 percent of the Ramspeck Act appointments, 76 percent of former Schedule C and noncareer SES appointments, and 81 percent of White House service appointments.

Reviews

This is the finest publication we have read through right up until now. Better than never, though I am quite late in starting to read this one. It has been written in a remarkably easy way in fact it is only after I finished reading through this book that I basically altered me, affected the way I think.
