If we compare the number of undergrade pupils in the ages 10, 11, and 12 years, the following table results: The number of retarded pupils revealed by this table is greater at the ages 11 and 12 than at 10, but for the two later years it is practically equal. The selection of the pupils, by whatever method of chance or accident it occurred, seems to have affected the result here. The average is probably slightly too low for the city as a whole in these years of age. The inquiry as to race of pupils, as determined by the race of the fathers, brings out some interesting information concerning the group of children for whom reports are available. In the following table racial groups and the separate races which had as many as 30 representatives are given: It appears that among the pupils represented those with native fathers constitute about two-thirds and those with foreign fathers about one-third of the whole number. Among the children with foreign fathers those whose fathers are of the Bohemian and Moravian race are particularly conspicuous, constituting, as they do, more than one The races with smaller representation here classed as All others are numerous. Those specifically named are the Canadian, French (1), Canadian, other (28), Danish (26), Dutch (5), English (19), French (2), Hebrew, German (2), Hebrew, Polish (2), Hebrew, not specified (3), Irish (19), Italian, South (2), Italian, not specified (6), Norwegian (7), Polish...
