The injections are always made with the patient lying upon the side and through a Sims speculum. Schultze says that after twenty injections the growth is usually diminished one-half in size and presents the appearance of a healthy, granulating ulcer. Bleeding ceases entirely and the discharge is without odor. The method certainly seems worthy of an extended trial. DEPARTMENT OF THERAPEUTICS. IN CHARGE OK W. H. CHRISTIE, M. D. Treatment of Cholera.--The Brooklvn Medical Journal, in a special number, gives a stenographic report of the meeting of the Medical Society of Kings Co., L.
