Excerpt from The Princeton Seminary Bulletin, Vol. 20: November, 1926 And what is the moral of all this? There are two or three obvious morals. The first of these is that we must accustom ourselves to hold to reality and truth, and when I use the word truth, I humbly use it in the sense that our Saviour used it. Before Pilate he was the King of truth, for this cause was I born, for this I came into the world, that I might bear witness to the truth. Pilate mockingly replied, What is truth and who can find truth? Our Lord knew and our Lord taught that truth is the reality of the invisible and unseen world in which he lived, which he opened to men by Pentecost and which has been the treasure of the church ever since.
