Outskirts Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 164 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 5.8in. x 0.9in. A new Perspective on the origins of Humanity on Earth. When you look into the sky on a clear night, and see the billions of stars suspended out there, it is quite amazing to realize that the light you see emanating from them has taken longer to reach your eye, than we humans have been on Earth. As a matter of fact, Homo sapiens have only been on this planet for about 250,000 years, which is just a twinkling when you are considering time on a Universal scale. During this period, we only have a written or oral history of the last seven thousand years. Obviously, the antediluvian flood wiped out the history that preceded it. What followed is mostly myth and nonsense, such as the common beliefs about what caused the flood itself. This book may clarify some of these misconceptions. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg, OR, La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
