The beads of the Reformer, however, as seen on the. Medals do not, with any closeness, agree with one another. Artists and engravers seem to have allowed themselves to form their own ideals of the man. Most of us, I suppose, have a Luther pictured in our minds, just as we have a Shakespeare. In both cases the variations in the current portraits are quite considerable. Nevertheless there are characteristics enough common to all of them to enable us to recognize almost immediately any portrait or bust or statue intended for either Shakespeare or Luther. Differences to the contrary notwithstanding, we know Luther on these medals by his bluff, good tempered, powerful, honest face; his leonine eye; his taurine neck and massive shoulders; his heavy scholastic gown. Occasionally the head...
