Excerpt from Gospel Development: A Study of the Origin and Growth of the Four Gospels by Mutual Comparison; In Two Divisions, I. Comparison in Language; II. Comparison in Subject Nor has the writer approached the subject in a partisan spirit. And advanced only those arguments which might seem to support his position. Every matter taken up has been treated with the utmost fairness. Every particle of evidence. Pro and con. That could be found. Has been considered and carefully weighed. And every conclusion arrived at has been the result of the most impartial deliberation. In fact. The writer has assumed the function of a judge. Who. Without being committed to either side. Treats both with fairness and justice. And endeavors. From the mass of conflicting testimony. To sift out the truth.
