Labofish s Catechism of Patents and Inventions, How Made: A Veritable School of Self-Instruction in Patents and Inventions, with Questions for Self-Examination (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By C S Labofish

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Labofish s Catechism of Patents and Inventions, How Made: A Veritable School of Self-Instruction in Patents and Inventions, With Questions for Self-Examination Years of incessant application, assiduous, deep and reflective meditation, and practical experience with patents and inventions, delving into the very root of the art, science and practice of patents and inventions, yearning for a ray of success, led the author of this work to the conclusion that success with patents is concurrent with the amount of knowledge of the underlying legal and commercial principles governing patents and inventions possessed by the inventor. An inventor having little or no knowledge of the spirit of our patent laws, depending entirely upon his patent attorney for the proper preparation and prosecution of his application before the Patent Office, does not generally get the patent he is entitled to; hence, a failure. An inventor devoid of a thorough knowledge of the laws of patentability of invention and discovery is often the sole owner of a worthless patent; hence a dire failure. An inventor devoid of a practical working knowledge...
