NO MORE MEDS (PAPERBACK)

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Are you stressed out because your child keeps getting sick and you don t know what steps to take? Are you sick of not getting answers from your doctor and always needing to drug your child? Is your child unable to speak or make eye contact? Are they having trouble learning and concentrating? Are they emotional unstable and in pain? Do you feel overwhelmed with daily responsibility to take care of your sick child? How would your life be different if your kid was healthy? I was raised in the belief that drugs heal and if I had a symptom the medicine cabinet would have the answers. I went through multiple medical crises involving emergency room visits, hospital admissions, medication treatment, and working within the system. The information I will be sharing is how I got out of the system and learned natural healing techniques to help heal myself and guide parents with kids that are sick. Dr. Corinne Weaver is a compassionate mother, upper cervical chiropractor, educator, speaker, and international bestselling author. She lost her health when she was 10 years old and had issues with asthma and allergies that she thought she would always have to endure. After years of surgeries, pain, poor health, and not able to breath she discovered upper cervical care and natural herbal remedies at age 21. This brought about a drug-free wellness lifestyle for her and her family, and she enthusiastically discovered her calling of helping children heal naturally. You ll find stories, examples and inspiration. - Learn why your child has a weak immune system -Learn why they are so sensitive to their surroundings - Learn why your child thinks that way -Discover...
