

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

[8.88 MB]

By Kate Colquhoun

HarperCollins Publishers, United Kingdom, 2009. Paperback. Condition: New. Revised ed.. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .A brilliantly conceived biography of Joseph Paxton, horticulturist to the Duke Duchess of Devonshire at Chatsworth, architect of the Crystal Palace at the Great Exhibition of 1851 and one of the greatest unsung heroes of the Victorian Age In the nineteenth century, which witnessed a revolution in horticulture and urban planning and architecture, Joseph Paxton, a man with no formal education, strode like a colossus. Head gardener at Chatsworth by the age of twenty-three, and encouraged by the sixth Duke of Devonshire whose patronage soon flourished into the defining friendship of his life, Paxton set about transforming this Derbyshire estate into the greatest garden in England. Visitors there were astonished by the enormous glasshouses and ambitious waterworks he built, the collection of orchids, the largest in all England, the dwarf bananas and the gargantuan lily, the trees and plants brought back from all over the world. Queen Victoria came to marvel and, increasingly, with the development of the railway in which Paxton was also involved, daytrippers from all over the country. It was the Crystal Palace, home of the Great..

Reviews

I actually started off looking over this publication. Indeed, it really is play, nevertheless an amazing and interesting literature. Its been printed in an exceedingly basic way and is particularly just right after i finished reading this ebook by which actually altered me, affect the way i believe.

-- Toney Bernhard

Excellent electronic book and helpful one. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. You wont truly feel monotony at whenever you want of your time (that's what catalogues are for relating to when you question me).

-- Mabelle Dach III