Come, now, girls, you surely have some interesting things to relate, also pictures. I know you must all have plenty of happenings, and how I envy your free life, for I am shut up all day in a gloomy, old city office, and actually hardly know what grass looks like. I am afraid if I went to the country I would ask to see the cow which gives the butter milk, like a few other cityltes. Let us look at a few of the pictures together this bad, rainy day, for I do enjoy them so much. For instance in the February number, page 54, isn t that little one a darling. I am not surprised, though, for T always knew they could raise mighty fine products in Stark County, Ohio, as I have a fine sample myself. It is my mother s old home, and of course I have a warm spot in my heart for Stark County, Ohio. Look on page 101, wouldn t you just love to go horse back riding all over that country. For a good horse and a good companion, and then for a day s jaunt. I am afraid I never would go into a house again. Weil, girls, if none of you will lend me a horse I can go anyway, for on page 26, March number, one is all saddled and waiting for me. Wouldn t it be grand to jump on that horse and over...
