Maxie payment of course it wm irregular, but it was a proper thing to a certain extent and this House has repeatedly justified the Government when a great disaster happens during a period when the Legislature is not in session if it goes to the rescue in a moderate degree. Take a city swept by fire. It would he a proi per thing to devote a certain amount to relieving the distress, or in a country district ruined by storm it would be pro per for the Government, even if the Leg islature were not in session, to go to the assistance of the people. But that was not the case at the Soo. No such pay ment ws contemplated by the people as the sum of and I say that no such payment Would have been made by the Government had it not been that an elec ion was on there. (applause) A matter of or might have been all right I am told that ac counts were paid...
